EXPECT IVEY WILL TRY POWELL, TWIN IN NEWSPAPER COURT

Edmonton—Mr. Justice W. C. Ives will preside at the trials of George F. Powell, British "social credit" expert, and Joseph H. Ives, "social credit" M. L. A. for Edmonton, on four charges connected with publication and distribution of leaflets entitled "Bankers' Treason" at the Supreme Court sitting for criminal trials, beginning November 3rd, according to the official arrangement of trial judges made by Chief Justice O. R. Mitchell last January.

Byrne of Birmingham, England, who is to be appointed a permanent commissioner to administer the "Social Credit" Act in this province, is expected to reach here on November 1, according to government officials. PARALYSIS APPEARS IN BROOKS DISTRICT

Medicine Hat—Three cases of infantile paralysis were brought into the district last Tuesday afternoon for treatment from the district north-east of Brooks. An early report states that three girls, aged 16, 12 and 10 years, were found to be suffering from the disease. This brings the total cases reported to the local health officer to 16. Besides these there were seven cases treated at Redcliff. There have been no cases reported locally since Sept. 1st.

CALAGHAN'S WIN MATE IN IRISH SWEETSTAKES

Bassano—Dance Fortune smiled on Mr. Frank Gayford of Calgary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gayford of Bassano, when his interest in an Irish Sweetstake ticket matured to bring him approximately $1,000. A syndicate of 25 Bassano persons headed by L. C. (Bud) Murphy, won a residual prize worth $1,176, in which Mr. Gayford has a share.

HUNGRY FUGATIVES MENACE TO POULTRY

Husar—Early Monday morning 15 prisoners dug their way to freedom, young coyotes belonging to Herb Sanders and Roy Warburton. These had expected to reap a rich harvest from the coyotes, which they had dug up in the spring as pups, and had fed throughout the summer, at an average rate of 60 gobbers a day. As soon as the coyotes had gained their liberty they found a neighbor's chicken yard and had killed eight before they were discovered, but when Sanders and Warburton were busy all day hunting the escaped animals, and succeeded in killing eight of them.

A man coming in from west with a load of hay noticed a coyote which was not scared, and killed it, and brought it to town. He tried to sell it to one of the owners, but when he heard what had happened, he gave it to them. Other men joined the hunt in the afternoon, for the 19 coyotes at large in the neighborhood are endangering the flocks of chickens.

Board of Trade Hold Quiet Meeting

A very quiet meeting of the Bassano Board of Trade was held in the Royal Cafe on Wednesday, October 27th. Fifteen members were present, with the President, Mr. James Johnston, in the chair.

Before the meeting was called to order, those present were served a delicious chicken dinner. It was unfortunate that more members could not have attended to share in this.

At the opening of the meeting, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted.

Following this, Mr. Johnston reported that a meeting of the executive committee had been held, and that Mr. J. H. Donaldson had been appointed chairman of the Public Affairs Committee.

Mr. P. J. Dierksen, chairman of the Membership Committee reported that one new membership had been received since the last meeting, with the promise of three more. It was the opinion of those present that a drive should be made for members, and that more members should attend the meetings to show their support to the Board. As an inducement to new members, the annual fee may be lowered to cover the balance of this term and include all of the 1938 term. It is hoped that some will take advantage of this offer.

The report of Mr. Donaldson, chairman of the Public Affairs Committee, was read and adopted. This report dealt mainly with the scales at the local stock yards.

It was decided that an invitation should be sent to the Superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. in Medicine Hat to attend some future meeting of the Board. As the next regular meeting falls on Nov. 10th, it was decided to call that meeting, due to Nov. 11th being a public holiday. Thus the next regular meeting will be held on Nov. 5th.

The meeting adjourned at 3 p.m.

MORE VEGETABLES RECEIVED IN HUSAR DIST.

Husar, Oct. 26th—On Monday, the 18th, a car load of 232 sacks of potatoes and 30 sacks of vegetables, and on Tuesday, a car load of 235 sacks of potatoes and 35 of vegetables, under the supervision of Sgt. C. J. Clark, R.C.M.P. of Bassano, were distributed to about the families of the drought stricken area near Husar, and around Makenzie. Another carload is expected here next week. This means a great deal to this area. Both cars arrived with chickens in prime condition. While Sgt. Clark here, many substitute families applied for coal and clothing.

After several drying days, the farmers are again at work on their fields, and thrashing is quite general. Stock and crops are regarded as moldy, due to the continued dampness of the past few weeks, but not as bad as was expected.

Poppy Day November 11th

Last year, Canada remembered her war dead in no inspiring a fashion as Vimy—the memorial itself, the Pilgrimage of veterans and mothers and wives, the participation of the King, the President of the French Republic, the Prime Minister—what every Canadian must feel pride in a duty so wholly and beautifully done.

Some expression of that feeling is very likely to be made by Canadians on November 11th this year, when, with the appeal of the Poppy Fund, the opportunity is given to render some measure of gratitude to those who, one might say, fell in the war but did not die.

For that, in effect, is what happened to many thousands of Canadian young men. Wounded, damaged in body and spirit, these multitudes of fellow men have survived twenty years of pain and handicap, of distress, frustration and disappointment in the daily race of life, regardless of all the help governments and municipalities can devise for them. On the side of the indescribably beautiful poppy fields, where there are now the 11,233 Canadian soldiers whose bodies have never been found, whose names do not appear on a name stone in any of the numerous Canadian Cemeteries scattered over France and Flanders. Thus no man is forgotten.

The Poppy Fund, which has attempted to see that no man of that generation be forgotten. The things government cannot undertake, the things individuals cannot do, the things which, in the end, are the only things that can be done for the living. It also meets certain kinds of human needs medical and domestic. Its work is practically all voluntary. It tries to be on behalf of its contributors on Poppy Day, the good Samaritan to the forgotten friends of the veteran population.

The Canadian Legion which conducts the campaign in Canada is only one unit of the British Empire Service League, which on November 11th in its world-wide associations in the British Empire, is selling poppies to collect money in every corner of the globe. The British poppies are the various national holidays and red letter days, but in the fight you make on Poppy Day, you are making in a duty universally British.

Chicken Supper Successful Event

Heralded as the greatest success of their Annual Chicken Supper, the Ladies Aid were hostesses to about 250 to 275 guests at the L.O.O.P. Hall last Thursday evening between the hours of 6 and 8 p.m. The crowd was the largest to attend the event within the last few years of the depression.

The financial revenue of $70.00 gained will be a great boost to their fund in the enterprise of moving a house, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. Main.

The ladies should be congratulated for their splendid work in preparing for the public such a fine supper. Liberal helpings of chicken, potatoes salad, pea, etc., were so tempting that all who attended could not help leaving without having added helps to their wasteline.

Yes, their tempting delicacies featured two home cooking and the ladies take great pride in this event. The popularity has steadily grown till now one realizes this as does he recognize a local holiday.

The ladies wish to thank all those who patronized them at this time.

Mr. Drayner was operated on in the General Hospital, Calgary, but is not doing as well as we hoped for.

Mr. Bobbie Williamson left yesterday for Edmonton where he is on his hunt for the winter.

Mrs. Collison visited Mrs. Flathman on Friday afternoon when she was at the home of Mrs. J. Brown, had as their Dunlavy of Duchess, also Mr. Dunlavy's brother and wife.

Letters to the Editor

Bassano, Alta., Oct. 27, 1937
To the Editor,

Bassano Recorder:
I am one of the many young girls in this town who are disgraced at the lack of organizations provided for such as we. Boy Scouts were organized for the boys of our age, but what was done about such a group for the girls—absolutely nothing.

There are many women in this town who are competent enough to handle such a group, but refuse to come forth. What is the matter?

In small places, like Husar and Arrowood are able to have successful groups of Girl Guides and Brownies as well as Boy Scouts, why can't it be done here? I am sure it can. It is therefore a plea for some community minded woman to step forth and take a group of girls into her hands and give them training that may possibly affect their later life. If it could only be done—wouldn't it be an honor to our town?

Young Men's Club Make Steady Progress

The first meeting of the Young Men's Club of Bassano was held in the new Club Rooms above James Johnston's store on Monday night last. About 20 young men were present, with President Archie Johnston in the chair.

A report of the Membership Committee showed that the membership was steadily increasing. Due to the amount of work to be done in the Club Rooms, no real drive for members had been made. However, many have signified their intention of joining when the club rooms are completed and regular meetings are being held.

The matter of fees for membership was discussed and it was decided to lower the initial fee from two dollars to one dollar, as the expenses so far had not been as high as contemplated, and because this was the general opinion that a larger membership would be the result of lower fee. The regular dues of 50c per month will remain the same, due to fall due in November. The final date for payment of the membership fees was set for November 10th.

As an official opening of the Club, Dick Supper is being held next Wednesday in Park Cafe for members and those who have signified their intention of joining to the membership Committee. In attendance, General business men who have assisted in the organization of the Club will be present to express their views on the constitution, and on the course of activity that the Club will follow.

Up to the present time, work has been concentrated mainly on the committee room, where all general meetings are to be held. The work room has been papered and all woodwork has been painted in black and white, giving a very neat and clean appearance. Considerable furniture has been collected, and a stove has been erected. A radio has been loaned to the Club, and adds a great deal to the enjoyment of all.

The Young Men wish to take this opportunity of thanking all those who have assisted them thus far in their undertaking by the kind donations of furniture, etc. There is still a lot of work to be finished, and more discarded furniture to be collected. If you can assist in any way, please let us hear from you.

You will inform any of the members of an old chair, table, picture or couch that you could donate to them.

Rugby Becoming a Popular Game

Local Squad Breaks Even with
Glendon in Two Game Series

For the past two or three weeks, many of the young men and boys of Bassano have become more and more interested in playing rugby, one of Canada's many sports, and one that has not been played in Bassano for a number of years. A week ago last Sunday, after very little practice, the boys met a team from Glendon of the local school grounds, and after an hour of pushing and shoving, finally came out on the short end of a 7-7 score.

Through the experience gained at this encounter, the locals secured a fair knowledge of how the game goes, with wing and added interest, called Mr. Wm. McLeary, who at one time played for one of the finest rugby teams in Alberta, for a few more pointers on the game. Mr. McLeary assumed the duties of coach for the boys, and started teaching the proper science of the game, still week-ends have been held every night at the school, and with these have been chalk-talks, whereby plays and signals are drilled into the players.

Mr. McLeary, the locals are expected to develop into a fairly powerful aggregation before the season closes.

On Sunday, last, a return game was played on the Glendon gridiron, and as a result of the local enthusiasm, and information, Bassano shot out the locals, by a 10 score. The game was a hard fought encounter, Bassano having the edge of the play for the first two quarters. However, inexperience made the boys lose several opportunities to finish their score. Glendon also missed chances to score and defeat Bassano, when a home ball was recovered numerous times by Bassano.

Appearing in the Bassano line-up were: Tony Thompson, J. Macdonald, A. B. Curry, W. Macdonald, R. Arison, W. G. Davis, W. R. Bassano, L. Berry, A. Galt, W. Galt, A. Arison with R. Broadfoot and R. Zelenak as subs.

On Sunday next, the Glendon boys will again look horn with Bassano on the local field. This will be the first of a home and home series, with local points to determine the winner. The second game will be played on Armistice Day in Glendon. You are invited to be at the school at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday to witness a game that will provide real entertainment and enjoyment for you, as well as make it encouraging for the locals. A word from the Arrowwood Squad, a powerful aggregation who have already defeated the Lethbridge Collegiate on several occasions, was received yesterday. At present no dates have been set for games with this team, but in all probability, a series will be arranged following the Glendon game.

HALLOWEEN AGAIN

On the eve of the 31st of this month Halloween will again be celebrated in Canada and in other English speaking countries. Originally a celebration of religious significance, it has degenerated in this country into a game of "shell out" by obliging and smiling householders into the hands, bags and so forth of rapacious youngsters on the hunt for apples, nuts and candies.

Originally known as All Hallows Eve it represents the vigil of Hallowmas of All Saints Day with legend and history going back into the days of the Druids of Gaul and Britain and to the lore of the Godesses of Ancient Rome. The Druids (Celtic Priests and Magicians) held their great autumn festival about 1st November when they lit great bonfires to keep away the witches and evil spirits which were supposed to be abroad on that particular night, more especially that of Saman, Lord of Death. In Ireland there is still conducted in certain parts, the "Vigil of Saman". The fires were lit in honor of the Sun God in thanksgiving for the harvest.

Under Christian influence attempts were made to change this and turn it from a heathenish festival into a Christian one, but old customs die hard, and today in the older lands certain superstitions still prevail, for instance, that girl eating an apple before a looking glass is supposed to see her future husband, and that children born on this day are held to have the power of communion with the unseen.

Apple ducking and the cracking of nuts were of Roman origin and the practice of ducking for apples is still carried on in Scotland today. Burns wrote about it in the following words:

"The auld gowdies, well-hoortid nits
Are round and round divided,
And many lads' and lassies' fates
Are there that night decided?"

Bonfires are still lit in the Highlands of Scotland and in Wales, and it is customary to place a small stone or pebbles as there are people present in the dying embers of the fire, and leave them there until the following morning. If any of the stones or pebbles are discolored it is regarded as certain that the person represented will die within the twelve months.

D'ANNUNZIO AND MUSSOLINI

Probably Italy's greatest figure, if not of all time, at least of this generation, is not Benito Mussolini, but that of Gabriele D'Annunzio. Famed as a scholar and poet, a statesman and politician who strode mightily across the footlights in the days of the Great War, a man who distinguished himself both as a sailor and a soldier, it was he who started the present movement now headed by the Italian dictator.

Perhaps it was D'Annunzio's only error, for hitherto his steps had been almost faultless, in that with the great vision which was his, he selected to lead the army he had gathered together for the purpose of seizing all power in Italy, a man destined to crowd him off the world stage and into comparative obscurity Benito Mussolini. D'Annunzio was the brain which conceived the plan; Mussolini was the man who put it into execution. But with the victorious Italian legions at his back and under his command, Mussolini seized the opportunity which was his, deposed the Chief who had appointed him, and arrogated unto himself the power which was rightly that of D'Annunzio's greatest man.

It was exactly fifteen years ago yesterday since the Italian Dictator marched into Rome. Admittedly under his rule and guidance, Italy has become a great power, and one that has not reckoned with. It is questionable, however, whether his influence for her power might not have been as great, and her influence for world peace a factor tending towards "Peace on Earth and Good-will Towards Men" instead of a nation bent apparently on war and the emulation of the ambitions of Caesar of old.

PASSCHENDALE

Twenty years ago one of the great tragedies of what might properly be called "The Great Tragedy" instead of "The Great War" was being enacted on the Western Front. Men who served their countries then through all the mud, filth, stench and awful weather will never forget it, and Canadians in particular have good cause to remember it.

The Canadian Corps was selected by Sir Douglas Haig to take and play a rather important part on condition that the Corps and officer in whom the late Canadian Corps Commander had the utmost confidence. The story is told that Sir Arthur Currie, on the surveying the situation, noted that batteries of artillery were one, and on pointing this two guns short of the regular complement.

His reply was characteristic: "He said that he could indent for them with indent. It is guns I want." He got them.

DISILLUSIONMENT

In August 1935 there were many people who did not vote for the Social Credit party but who still had the hope that it was, and when Mr. Aherhart realized that his dream was Utopian and if impracticable, he would abandon it and then proceed to give the people of Alberta a form of Government which would be acceptable. They believed in kind of Government which would be in his ability. Likewise there were many, yes thousands, who cast their ballots for him for precisely the same reasons. How has he lived up to their expectations?

The story is sad. It has been one of complete failure. Not a single one of his objectives has been attained that we know of. They tell us they have tried. We have seen them start a number of times, only to have them retreat. It is not going too far to say that having regard to the ends it sought to achieve and the means to those ends, the Government has got nowhere, and that there is no hope at all of Social Credit as originally understood and explained ever being fulfilled.

On the other hand the picture today is altogether different. The Government is experimenting with plans and schemes which while they may merit of being capable or understanding (something which could never be said of Social Credit) are altogether foreign to the original proposals and savour too much of things alien to our ideas of British democracy.

All this has led to the loss of that support which elected Mr. Aherhart and his party. Thousands have lost their confidence in his honesty, his sincerity or his ability. And his references, which apparently he finds it impossible to conceal, to his being "Merely the instrument of the Almighty." The Moses warranted assumptions of Divine Power or Guidance, which thinking electors treat only with contempt.

"O WAD SOME POWER THE GIFTIE GIE US TO SEE OURSELVES AS ITERS SEE US."—Burns.

BACK IN 1916 WHEN SASKATCHEWAN HELPED THE EMPIRE

The current campaign to collect and ship supplies to the drought-stricken prairies calls to mind a similar effort made during 1916. The World War had entered its second disastrous year and the efforts of Britanians throughout the Empire were bent on helping the boys in the line to carry on. Active organization was commenced in Saskatchewan and farmers were asked to pledge the produce of one acre of grain to be donated to the Canadian Red Cross for the use of their overseas organization.

The response was immediate and overwhelming. When harvest time rolled around the produce of these acres was delivered to country elevators, the donor taking a storage ticket for same and mailing to Regina. In many instances these tickets were accompanied by letters. The writer recalls one which declared that the sender, at the time of signing his pledge, had anticipated his yield would be a normal one in the neighborhood of 20 bushels; however, nature had smiled on his efforts with the result that he had harvested nearly 60 bushels per acre—his grain ticket for 60 bushels of No. 1 hard was enclosed. Late that fall the grain was shipped to the mills in Moose Jaw, and the flour shipped east. That was Saskatchewan's war-time tribute to the Empire, her contribution from the land.

That was twenty years ago. Saskatchewan cast her bread upon the water and the grain did not come back to her in present hour of need; the assistance from her sister provinces should be unstinted.—James H. Ward, in Chilliwack Progress.

Hon. Mr. Manning told the Legislature that the tax on banks would not cost the banks anything because they could create money. If this is true, the government must, as War ren Hastings did in a similar situation, stand amazed at its own moderation. If it is not going to cost the banks anything why should the government stick at a measly two million? Why not assess them enough to pay off the provincial debt and meet the personal dividend of $25 a month? Why should the banks complain if it is not costing them anything? If we win in that position we would make a good fellow of ourselves without hesitation. So too, would Mr. Manning. Surely those who are not yet not less public spirited. Mr. Cockcroft's idea of starting a bank of good fellows like Mr. Manning and myself would seem to indicate the way out of distress into easy street.

We need never have said one word against Social Credit had we known that its chief end, viz. the payment of dividends, could be achieved without it costing anybody anything. Its sponsors did not do it justice when they talked of processing taxes, etc. and one means of raising the necessary revenue which looked very much like taking money out of one pocket to put it into another, more perhaps out of some pockets to make up for less out others.—Vulcan Advocate.

THE PROPAGANDA BUREAU

A. J. Alnutt head of the $5,000 per year propaganda department of the Aherhart Government released his first publicity broad-side last week. The major part of it was the sort of trash that forever finds its way into editorial waste-paper baskets. If the government is of the opinion that the words of F. E. Anderson, M.L.A., are "the pure gospel truth" and his smutty allusions to the old-time parties are the acme of good taste then judgement has fled to brutish beasts and men have lost their reason.

There is no valid reason why public funds should be used by the government of the day to propagate its nostrums. If in the future every party holding office follows this precedent, then the tax-payer is in for a good drubbing. The public should give a vote of thanks to the Lieut.-Governor of Alberta for with-holding assent to the Press Control Bill. While it is true Major Douglas states Social Credit is achieved by trial and error this should not apply to the business of publicity. Good publicity is worth the price that is paid for it. Bad publicity is costly at any price.—Hanna Herald

JAPAN'S PURPOSE

Unable to negotiate with any other power in China except the Central Government at Nanking, and finding China as is determined as she is united in her policy to submit no longer to unprovoked Japanese aggrandizement, Prince Koyano speaks what has always really been in the mind of the class he represents when he declares, "Japan's best choice is to beat China to her knees so that she will no longer have the spirit to fight." Let us assure Koyano and company, an organization which may not have a soul to be damned but which certainly has a body to be kicked, that Japan will not have to beat China to her knees but will have to batter her to death before her long-suffering and now thoroughly infuriated lions will cease retaliating to the vicious kicks by the spiked boot of imperialism. China's spirit to fight Japan will endure whilts there is an ounce of strength left in the nation, and if when that is gone then Japan will find to her everlasting cost that she has conquered a quicksand. China is too great a historical culture and numerically to be absorbed by Japan, or any other nation for that matter.—Hong Kong News.

Correct Feeding Means More ProfitsMin-o-vite

Induced Minerals with Cod Liver Oil Builds Vitality, Prevents Disease. Look for the Trade Mark—MIN-O-VITE—accept No substitutes. The Perfected Mineral Supplement contains all requisite minerals—a special mixture being sold to meet the needs of each type of animal and each bag of MIN-O-VITE is guaranteed to contain the following elements: Calcium, Phosphorus, Nitrate of Potash (not in Hog Min-o-vite form), Copper, Sodium Chloride, Charcoal in Hog and Poultry. Min-o-vite, Sulphur, Potassium Iodide 2%, Vitamin A and D.

Metabolism of Minerals:
 The chief claim we make for "MIN-O-VITE" is that it provides in one complete mixture all essential minerals including Iodine and Vitamin D, thus insuring maximum metabolism of Calcium. Unless minerals can be metabolized, little good result from their use, and Iodine is used to insure this, but when Vitamin D is also incorporated it is a proved fact that metabolism is increased enormously. Digestibility counts for little in a mineral mixture. It is the amount actually metabolized that indicates value for money.

Warning:
 There are many imitations of "MIN-O-VITE" and we appreciate the compliment. Get genuine patented "MIN-O-VITE" and be sure of giving your valuable stock the proved product. Sold the world over.

B.H.S. "Weakly"

In the following issues of the Recorder will be published extracts from the School Paper. All the articles, stories nor humor will be reprinted as this and space will not allow us to do so much. We want to like to. Here is the first in this series below:

The first article was written by the Editor, Bill Smith, and is a resume of the contents of the book. The first paper of the B.H.S., named the TID BITS, by the sub-editor, finally reached its conclusion and possibly its Waterloo, on the 25 day of October, nineteen hundred and thirty-seven.

It is the first paper of its kind to be introduced into our High School, and it seems to have secured a very favorable foothold. Apparently Grade XI has taken the honor of having their work in first, with Grade X a very close second. But where is Grade XII? Possibly they have followed the example of our notations printer and have gone back for more gas and a motorcycle. However they have surpassed Sir William in at least one respect, by putting in at the last minute with their donations. Please do not think we mean property certificates. Cheer up boys, I'll be with you next month.

If Grade XI continues to put forth the same effort shown in the last few weeks we feel sure that no complaints will be registered. Violet Bacon writes a very good story which has a different ending than the majority of novels. On page 10 you will find a short story written by Shirley Holmes, featuring two prominent members of the underworld and based on the slogan, "Crime does not pay".

Arnold's novel on an incident occurring in the world war is typically true of an aviator life during the years of 1914-1918. Mary Lore sticks a little closer to the earth and tells the life story of a well known "king" common to the irrigation district.

If you prefer the shorter type of story expressing a number of ideas in fewer words, read Jim Honey's novel, "The Unknown Victim". Dorothy Lewis submits a brain wracking composition "The Prize".

If you have ever been lost, read Carolyn's story. It is an incident common to a large city and she expresses her thoughts in such a manner as would induce Hitler's heart.

On turning to the work of Grade X we find some articles which suggest a good deal of work on their part. They seem to hold a mental change of school in the background, as the majority of them chose educational subjects.

Bob Bacon gives an account of the infatuation of carpets, while Genevieve chose a chemical topic, namely, "The Chemical Development of Water Resistant Cloth". Norma Eagle supplied interesting data on the two large irrigation systems of the United States, while Goldie's article dealt with crime below the border.

John deals with education, Jean Marquardt with "Glasses for Umpires", and Bob Currie with an educational composition on "World Crises".

It is not necessary to print the remainder of the editorial as Bill merely expresses his thanks to all those who co-operated to make this the first paper, a success.

We, the editors of this column, also with the newly formed Society the best of luck in all its future enterprises.

The Following are Shots at Hand down through the paper. If her eyes glitter it might be from a stigmation, or in some odd cases, love.

Early to bed and early to rise and your girl goes out with the other guys. Women don't pay to preserve the flesh, but to delay it.

There are two sides to every key-hole. If you are going to hitch your wagon to a star, make sure it isn't a meteor.

These jokes, you will readily agree are terrible, but along with several others, they constitute the "stiff and snappy".

How many kinds of would are used in making a match; asked Mr. Meeres. Two kinds replied Hugh, she would and she would.

Chewing gum is a loss of fun. With me, you'll agree. But Mr. Meeres is not like us. He doesn't chew, you see.

John M. "How is it that you kiss so divinely?" "Ramsey, "Oh, I used to blow the bugle for the Boy Scouts."

Mr. Meeres: "Spell Stralght!" Goldie: "S-p-e-l-l-s-t-r-a-i-g-h-t." Mr. Meeres: "Correct. What does it mean?" Goldie: "Without Gtinger Ale."

Arrowwood Notes

Times are looking up in Arrowwood. Mr. Geo. Williams has put in a new gas pump, and Mr. Ralph Leonard is building a new garage while Mr. A. Phillips is driving a new Dodge.

Mrs. Thorpe of Calgary who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. J.B. Jacques, has been the guest of honor at several parties this week.

Mrs. Dahl and daughter, Jean, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Dahl's mother at Relva.

Miss Alice Archambault of Calgary is a visitor at the home of her parents on Sunday.

We are pleased to see Mr. Anderson walking around again these days.

The 1st Com. Arrowwood Guides held an enjoyable winter roast at the town's Tuesday. Mr. Gooderham of Glenside and several Guides came over. All report a good time.

Mr. Allan Phillips was a business visitor to Bassano on Tuesday. Dr. Thorpe of Calgary and Norman Jacques were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacques on Sunday.

The Brownies had their first meeting after being organized. There are two packs which are very enthusiastic groups. On account of the weather they had to postpone their meetings for two weeks.

The W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Phillips last week. Devotional was read by Mrs. McMan and a report from the Parcel Post committee was read by Mrs. Liesemer. A motion was made that the ladies serve lunch at the town's Tuesday auction sale. The president made an appeal for paper plates as soon as possible. A delicious lunch was served by the housewives, Mrs. Heeketh and Mrs. Hunkerton.

Mrs. and Mrs. A. C. Little, Mr. and Mrs. J. Little of Stavely, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. F. Little and Mr. and Mrs. H. Hummel and family of the home of Mrs. A. C. Little's brother, Mr. Frank Johnson.

Don't forget the big rugby dance to be held on Friday, Oct. 29th.

The Arrowwood Rugby team journeyed to Lethbridge on Saturday last and engaged the Collegiates of that city in a hard fought battle. The Collegians took an early lead by means a well placed field goal and strengthened this with a rouse. Arrowwood's lone pointer was scored by Vancil when he tackled a Lethbridge ball carrier for a safety touch.

This committee, composed of some twenty persons representative of all parts of the province, met recently in the office of the Deputy Minister of Education, Parliament Buildings, Edmonton.

The monies to be expended were allocated under five specific headings known as Schedules A, B, C, D, and E, and a supervisor for each project appointed. The projects are as follows:

CANADA YOUTH TRAINING

Majority of them running for approximately four weeks. In addition to the practical courses outlined above there will also be courses in health, recreation, etc.
Project "F" - This Forestry project which has been set up to train 60 young men who live in and out of town camp under the direction and supervision of provincial foresters, is already under way. Any applicant for forestry who failed through late registration or otherwise to be provided for by this project is advised to put in an application for registration in any other course in which they may be interested.
Project "G" - This project is divided into two divisions: (a) the provision of a three months course in all phases of household work to 40 young women at one time, at an approximate cost of $40 per student. This branch of the project will include a follow-up service to provide personal contact with graduates of the school and their employers. (b) The establishment of a bureau of special services under qualified personnel to give vocational guidance to unemployed young women and provide for their instruction and placement in any specialized service. In addition there will be a course for reconditioning of unemployed young women by health instruction, group activities and recreation.
Project "D" - is a project for the occupational and vocational training for unemployed young men and women between the ages of 18 and 30, and also provides for reconditioning and refresher courses. A survey is being made through the mail at the present time, addressed to all employers of labor requesting assistance by answers to a questionnaire regarding present requirements, future requirements, possible opportunities, etc., for placing students as apprentices. According to plans now under way the youth will be given preliminary "try-out" periods of from 4 to 6 weeks in which to find themselves. This preliminary training will give them the opportunity to select, with the assistance of the Supervisor, the particular vocation to which they are interested. This project provides for 400 youths and provision is also made whereby a contribution will be made towards the maintenance of non-residents during this preliminary period, where such assistance is necessary. Other arrangements will be made to offer about 5,000 weeks of instruction in industry for students who show the greatest aptitude for specific trades.

Schedule "E" - A project under the direction of the Department of Agriculture for the training of young men as follows:
1. The placing of 140 youths on farms under the supervision of district agriculturists.
2. The placing of 140 youths on farms under the supervision of the same agriculturists of the province.
3. The placing of 140 youths on poultry farms under the supervision of the Provincial Poultry Commissioner.
4. The placing of 140 youths in ordnance to act as helpers. In each of the above plans the student as trained will be allowed $10 per month and the farmer, as employer to whom they are apprenticed, will receive $5 a month.
5. The placing of 40 youths in the
